Pioneers of Advanced Technologies

Ed. Simone und Christoph Völcker

- Pioneers of 3D printing who break new ground with future technologies
- Printed fashion, buildings and organs

The international competition for additive manufacturing and advanced technologies, the “3D Pioneers Challenge”, offers visionaries a platform with a global network. Industry leaders and experts shed light on the multi-layered fields of innovation from their own perspectives.

The initiators of the platform, Simone and Christoph Völcker, provide an outlook and impulses for future-makers in architecture and design, research and development, as well as politics and industry – in the spirit of “pushing boundaries”.
